

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What is your favorite topic of conversation? Why?
- Is there something you never talk about in public? What is it? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about things I have been doing and things I have done.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.
- I can express complex statements using words like who, that or which.

Let's Explore!

Peter meets his new date, Laura. It looks like things are off to a good start.

* When things are "off to a good start", they look promising and encouraging.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Hi, I'm Peter. It's very nice to finally meet you.
Laura: Likewise. This is a great place! I've been coming here every week since I started my new job.
Peter: You know this place, too? It's not that popular, which is why I've always felt at home here.
Laura: I know what you mean. I'm someone who needs to feel like I'm in my comfort zone if I want to have fun.
Peter: Me too! I don't know that many people who have this in common with me!
Laura: Yeah, I wish I knew more people like me. Sometimes I feel like I'm not compatible with most of the guys who like me. That's why I've bookmarked your profile.
Peter: That's true. So ... have you been dating a lot since you joined Tender?
Laura: I've been on a few dates. I've been attracted to a few of the guys that I met, but I guess it didn't work out. I wish I could find someone who has good chemistry with me.
Peter: Well, I wish I could keep my dates captivated for more than one evening! Dating can be a daunting experience sometimes!
Laura: Well, it looks like we're off to a good start!
Peter: I agree. So ... shall we order?

Let's Practice!

Laura is a complex person.

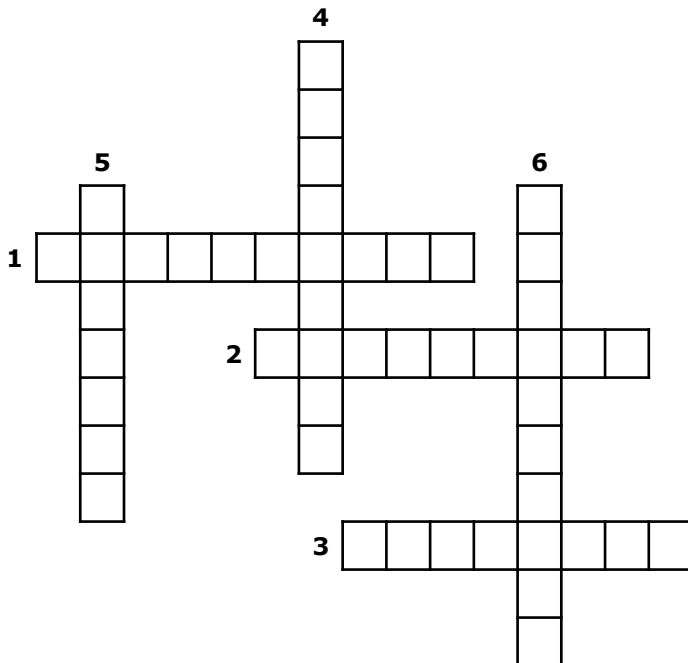

Instructions: Read the definition. Complete the crossword.

Across

1. Capable of being together in harmony.
2. To be very interested in something or someone.
3. When you find it difficult to deal with a situation.

Down

4. Have things in common with someone or something. It is also known as a science.
5. A specific zone that people find somehow pleasant.
6. When you feel fascinated about something or someone.

Let's Practice!

Peter and Laura talk about what they have done and what they have been doing.

Instructions: Draw a line to match both columns and correctly complete the sentences.

COLUMN A

1. Peter has always felt at home
2. Laura has been coming to Murphy's Pub every week since
3. Peter has been coming here by
4. Peter has met a very nice
5. Laura has been on a few
6. Laura has bookmarked

COLUMN B

- a. dates.
- b. she started her new job.
- c. himself.
- d. Peter's profile.
- e. girl at the bar.
- f. two months ago.

Extension Activity

Role-play a first date situation.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a dialogue (12-14 lines) with a partner about a first date.
- Think of 3 or 4 questions that you would ask your date in order to get to know them better.
- Think of 3 or 4 things that describe you. Try to think about things that make you unique or original.
- Talk about the things you have in common, and share your opinions.
- Read your dialogue aloud to another group.

Self-Assessment

Yes
No

I write about feelings and reactions.

☐ ☐

I talk about what I have done and what I have been doing.

☐ ☐

I talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to bookmark (verb): to save information online for later use
e.g. If you like a profile, you can also bookmark it in your list of favorites.
- compatible (adjective): capable of existing together in harmony or in peace e.g. I'm not compatible with most of the guys who like me.
- daunting (adjective): difficult to deal with e.g. Speed dating can be a daunting experience at first.
- to have good chemistry (expression): to share many things in common with someone e.g. If you have good chemistry with someone, you'll know straight away.
- comfort zone (noun): a situation in which you feel the most at ease e.g. You shouldn't get out of your comfort zone on the first date.
- captivated (adjective): showing great attraction to something or someone e.g. I want to feel captivated by a conversation.
- in common (expression): sharing many interests
e.g. I have been talking to this girl, and we have so many things in common!

Learning Points

Present Perfect Continuous vs Present Perfect Tenses

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a past action or an action that began in the past that is connected to the present in some way.

You use Present Perfect Continuous tense to describe:

- a single activity that lasts a long time, and
- an action that is repeated over a long period of time.

These continue up to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experience. When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

For example:

I have learned English = I learned English in the past and now I can speak English.

He has bought a painting = He bought the painting in the past and now he has a painting.

You can use the Present Perfect Continuous tense when a long activity has just stopped.

To emphasize the action, use the continuous form.

- I've been coming here every week since I started my new job.
- Have you been dating a lot since you joined Tender?

To emphasize the result of the action, use the simple form.

- I've always felt at home here.
- I've been on a few dates.

Subject	Has/Have	Been	Verb+ing
I	have	been	coming here every week since I started my new job.

- You use FOR to talk about how long an action has been happening (a week, 2 days, five hours, six years, etc.).
- You use SINCE to talk about when the action started (2010, Monday, she was a child).

Learning Points

Talking about Wishes and Imaginary Situations

You use I wish ... to talk about things you do not have or do, or you cannot have or do.

The verb wish introduces an idea. After wish, you use a verb in the past tense.

I wish I knew ...

I wish I had ...

I wish you were ...

Structure:

Example	Meaning
I wish I knew more people like me.	I want to know more people like me but I don't know them.
I wish I could find someone who has good chemistry with me.	I want to know someone who has good chemistry with me but I don't know anyone like that.
I wish I could keep my dates captivated for more than one evening!	I want to keep my dates captivated but that's not the case.

