

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Finding the person of your dreams is not always easy!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What do you think of the importance of social media in people's relationships?
- Have you ever used a website to meet new people? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about technology, friendships and relationships.
- I can talk about things I have been doing and things I have done.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

Let's Explore!

Sally explains the ins and outs of online dating.

* The "ins and outs" are the detailed facts about something technical.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: So, Peter, have you updated your profile like I asked you to?
- Peter: I'm not as familiar with online dating as you are. I wish I knew which website to go to.
- Sally: Let me show you Tender. It's a website that lets you meet people based on your preferences. I've been subscribing to this service for a few months now. I've met many cool guys that way. I've only fallen out with two of them.
- Peter: I've never heard of it. How do I register?
- Sally: First, you need to log in with your username and password.
- Peter: I always forget one or the other! I wish I could find a way to remember them.
- Sally: You know that your computer can do that for you, right? Since last year I've been using a program that logs you in automatically. You should try that.
- Peter: OK, thanks ... Anyway, what do I do after that?
- Sally: All you have to do is set up your profile, fill in your personal information, say what kind of girls you're looking for, and wait for a message to pop up! And don't forget to log out!
- Peter: I've never been any good at writing about myself. I wish I wrote as well as you.
- Sally: I've been writing online articles since I was 15. It takes time.

Let's Practice!

Peter needs to reboot his love life. Fortunately for him, Sally is there to help.

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Choose the the correct preposition to correctly complete the sentences. Use: up, in, for, out.

1) What are the steps to subscribe to the online dating site?

The first thing you have to do is set _____ your profile. You need to log _____ with your username and password. If you receive a message, it will pop _____ on another window. You must log _____ after you're done.

2) Why does Sally like online dating?

She has met many friends and has only fallen _____ with a few of them. Online dating is a good way to look _____ the right person for you.

Let's Practice!

If only Peter could be more like Sally!

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Put each word in the correct order. Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. few / subscribing / I've / this / to / now. / for / months / a / been / service

2. I've / many / cool / met / way. / that / guys

3. with / only / two / out / I've / fallen / of / them.

4. in / been / automatically. / using / year, / last / logs / that / I've / you / program / Since / a

5. I / been / I've / was / since / articles / writing / 15. / online

Extension Activity

Ask different people about their use of social media.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Ask 6-8 people about their use of social media.
- Ask them which website they use most.
- Ask them if they use it everyday, and if they don't, ask them how often they go online.
- Ask them if they have already met new people thanks to social media.
- Share your results with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write about technology and friendship.

☐☐

I talk about people's past experiences.

☐☐

I identify the use of social media among different people.

☐☐

Target Words

- to pop up (verb): to show up on another window in your computer e.g. A new message popped up on another window.
- to subscribe (verb): to register to a service
e.g. I've been subscribing to this service for a few months now.
- username (noun): a name you use on your online profiles
e.g. You need to input your username in order to access the site.
- to log in (verb): to insert a name and password to access a website e.g. You need to log in with your username and password.
- to log out (verb): to exit a website you previously logged into e.g. Don't forget to log out!
- to look for (verb): to search for something or someone e.g. Fill in your personal information and say what kind of girls you're looking for.
- to fall out (verb): to end a relationship because of a disagreement e.g. I've met many cool guys online and I've only fallen out with two of them.

Learning Points

Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs consist of a verb and one or more prepositions. They are common, especially in informal spoken English. The meaning of phrasal verbs is often completely different from the meaning of the verb alone.

Phrasal verbs can either be separable or inseparable.

Separable phrasal verbs consist of two parts. They always require an object.

The object of a phrasal verb can go either between the verb and the preposition or after the preposition.

Examples:

I handed in my homework.

I handed my homework in.

If the object of the sentence is an object pronoun, it must go between the two parts of the phrasal verb.

Example:

I handed it in.

Some phrasal verbs are inseparable, so the verb must be directly followed by its preposition or adverb. Otherwise, the meaning of the phrasal verb will be incorrect.

Some inseparable phrasal verbs never use an object.

Examples:

- get up = get out of bed

I get up at seven o'clock every morning.

- take off = leave the ground

The plane took off on time.

- look out = beware! be careful!

Look out! That car is going to hit you!

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
to fall out with	to end a relationship after a disagreement to look for	to search for someone to log in	to access a website by entering a password
to log out	to exit a website by removing the password
to pop up	to appear on another window

Learning Points

Examples:

- Ann: I've only fallen out with two of the new guys that I've met online.
- Bob: You should show me how to log in to that website you mentioned.

Present Perfect Continuous vs Present Perfect Tenses

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a past action or an action that began in the past that is connected to the present in some way.

You use Present Perfect Continuous tense to describe:

- a single activity that lasts a long time, and
- an action that is repeated over a long period of time.

These continue up to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experience. When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

For example:

I have learned English = I learned English in the past and now I can speak English.

He has bought a painting = He bought the painting in the past and now he has a painting.

You can use the Present Perfect Continuous tense when a long activity has just stopped.

To emphasize the action, use the continuous form.

- We've been working really hard for a couple of months.
- She's been having a hard time.

To emphasize the result of the action, use the simple form.

- Have you updated your profile like I asked you to?
- I've met many cool guys that way.

Present Perfect Continuous
Subject	Have	Been	Verb+ing
She	has	been	talking on the phone for an hour.
They	have	been	working there since 2010.

- You use FOR to talk about how long an action has been happening (a week, 2 days, five hours, six years, etc.).
- You use SINCE to talk about when the action started (2010, Monday, she was a child).

Learning Points

Present Perfect

Subject	has/have	past participle
I	've	fallen out with two of them.
She	has	met many guys that way.

Examples:

- I've been subscribing to this service for a few months now.
- Since last year, I've been using a program that logs you in automatically.

